

Sour Winter Skies

A Robert Stanley image series

A photograph of a cemetery entrance. A black metal archway frames the view. The words "Lost graves" are written in a blue, stylized font across the arch. Below the arch, a gravel path leads up a grassy hill. In the background, a tall, thin gravestone stands on the left, and a dark, rounded tree is on the right. A black metal fence runs across the middle ground. The sky is a pale, hazy blue.
